

Gledis Nano

Gledis Nano is a postgraduate of the FBI National Academy in Quantico, Virginia, boasts a 20-year career in National Security, Criminology, and Law Enforcement. Nano has been instrumental in safeguarding the nation's security and crafting anti-terrorism strategies in collaboration with international partners. Serving as General Director of the State Police and Director of Anti-Terrorism for several years, Nano has received accolades, including bravery and honor medals, for outstanding service and professionalism in preventing and combating terrorist activities in Albania.

Presently, Gledis Nano is involved in academia as a lecturer at multiple universities and works as a consultant in the field of National Security.